NARRATOR: When we last left Tommie, he wrote a thank-you note to the interviewer for his dream internship, following the wise advice of one of the University of St. Thomas Career Development Center’s counselors. We now join Tommie as he is standing outside of the library, waiting for his classmate, wondering in the back of his mind when he would receive the call telling him if the internship was his. His classmate approaches.

CLASSMATE: Hey man, sorry I’m late!

TOMMIE: No worries, man, I just got here. Where do you wanna go eat?

CLASSMATE: I think a sandwich from the Binz would be great! We might as well go as long as the weather is nice—it’s going to snow soon!

TOMMIE: [laughs] That’s right! Let’s get going and beat the rush.

NARRATOR: Tommie and his classmate make their way through the arches and walk along Summit—carefully watching for all traffic and obeying the traffic lights, of course.

CLASSMATE: Man, everybody’s talking about the Tommie-Johnnie game!

TOMMIE: We demolished them! And some of those plays—[cell phone rings] ... Oh man!

CLASSMATE: What?

TOMMIE: It’s the guy from the internship I applied for! He’s going to let me know if I got it or not!

CLASSMATE: Whoa! What are you waiting for? Answer it!
TOMMIE: [phone beeps on as it’s answered] Hello? [Pauses] Yes, this is Thomas. [Pauses] Nice to hear from you too! [Pauses] I see. Thank you, sir. [Pauses] You too, have a good afternoon. [Phone beeps as the call is ended]

NARRATOR: Tommie’s face gives his classmate no indication as to what the interviewer said. He carefully puts his phone away, not saying anything.

CLASSMATE: So? What happened?

NARRATOR: Tommie’s face suddenly widens into a grin.

TOMMIE: [excited] I got it! They were impressed by my experience and my eagerness to learn! I start Monday!

CLASSMATE: Awesome! Congrats, man!

TOMMIE: Thanks! I don’t know if I would have landed this internship if it wasn’t for all the help I got from the career counselor.

CLASSMATE: [teasing] What about me? I helped you with your resume at the very beginning, remember?

TOMMIE: [Laughs] Well, of course you as well! But the Career Development Center really helped me with the interview, especially after I botched the phone interview. They’re such a great resource.

CLASSMATE: I thought the same thing when I was there! Come on, after lunch we can walk to Izzy’s for ice cream—my treat to celebrate your success!
